Let us assume that you are the owner of an average car, weighing between 1 and 2 tons. This heavy vehicle, should obviously be able to slow down promptly when necessary. But it can only be done if your tires are able to cope and tolerate the huge load time after time. So great, durable tires is important. Even vital.

If you are one of the many women who are annoyed by not being able to make even quite ordinary maintenance work on your car, now is the chance to learn how to do it. Mind you, without facing a better knowledge of husband, son or boyfriend looking over your shoulder.

The course starts with a joint brunch prior to the day's program. Not as theory on a blackboard but in the garage. Here you will learn how to control everything from tires to the radiator and brake fluid. You will be able to check the oil level and give your tires the right pressure. You will get to know a lot about tires, safety and fitting of child seats. You will get to know what it means when the different symbols on the dashboard light up. And much, much more.
